SHOWS PROPER SPIRIT.

The spirit exhibited by the United Irish Societies of Chicago last week is worthy of emulation. No less than 20,000 Irishmen were present when the following resolution was adopted:

"We approve the policy pursued by the Irish Parliamentary party, and express our confidence in the honor, fidelity and ability of the Irish leader, John E. Redmond, and his patriotic colleagues. We pledge to the United Irish League in Ireland our sincere co-operation in the heroic struggle for the possession of Irish lands and liberty. We rejoice at the noble and cheering spectacle afforded by the unity of the Irish people, Catholic and Protestant, in demanding an Irish government for the Irish people of all creeds and races. We gravely warn American statesmen, who may think otherwise, that we denounce with all our strength any attempt to disregard the advice of George Washington to avoid entering into entangling alliances, especially with Great Britain, the persistent, treacherous enemy of the United States. We extend to our German fellow-citizens the right hand of fellowship and good will, and pledge ourselves to stand with them shoulder to shoulder in opposing all English or so-called Anglo-Saxon schemes in this republic."

Irish and Germans are the bone and sinew of this country, and neither race will consent to the United States making an entangling alliance with Great Britain.

BRISBANE'S BLUNDER.

William Randolph Hearst, of yellow-journal fame, and for some years the possessor of Presidential aspirations, has permitted his man Friday, Arthur Brisbane, editor of the New York Journal, to throw the fat in the fire. A majority of the Irish-Americans vote the Democratic ticket, but Brisbane's recent attack on things Catholic lost the Journal any respect the Irish people had for him or Hearst. Only a few months ago Brisbane told of his Irish parentage, but now the Irish can thank heaven he was not born in Ireland. In reference to the revolutionary outbreak in Barcelona Brisbane wrote:

"All power to the real men and women of Spain, and to their rebellion against darkness, superstition and the 'divine right' of the half-idiot Alfonso."

The first affront to law, order and religion was followed the next day with a cartoon representing King Alfonso on his way to the "Down and Out Club." On the walls of that structure were portraits of William Jennings Bryan, Castro, the deposed Sultan of Turkey and the Pope. Blaine had his Burchard and Hearst has his Brisbane. It is now Hearst's turn to take a life membership in the "Down and Out Club."

REDEEM KENTUCKY.

There is no time to redeem Kentucky from Republican rule like the present, and the place to begin is in Louisville. What has the Republican party done for the workingmen? Made slaves of them. What is it doing for them now? For answer look at Pennsylvania, the banner State of the Union as far as Republicanism is concerned. Workmen within the present week have been shot down like dogs; manacled men have been fastened to horses and dragged through the streets. By whom and for what? Not by hired thugs, but by men clothed with the authority of law, as law goes in Pennsylvania, by duly accredited deputy sheriffs and State troopers. Their only offense is that they refused to remain the slaves of the American Pressed Steel Car Company at McKee's Rocks. Now another charge is made—that of peonage. Albert Varnos, an Austrian, complained to the Consul of his country at Pittsburgh that he had been forced to take the place of strikers in the plant, and when he wanted to leave was so badly beaten that he had to be sent to a hospital. Varnos and the Consul say that many more of their countrymen are being worked as peons against their will.

All this in a free country and under the boasted good government of Republicans. This is what will come to pass in Kentucky unless things are soon mended. Why else was the First Regiment disintegrated save to put in Republican officers to do the bidding of the Republican machine at the coming fall election. Louisville and all Kentucky must be redeemed from these bloodthirsty knaves who cry liberty aloud to divert attention from the fact that liberty is for them and slavery for the people.

GUARD YOUR CHILDREN.

Many parents of the present generation are spoiling their children by allowing them too much of their own way. Sometimes the father is to blame and often the mother. The father knows the pitfalls into which his sons and daughters may fall by associating with bad companions and keeping late hours. On the other hand the mother is prone to think that the father is too strict; that boys will be boys and girls will be girls. She gets that peculiar idea that many people have that youngsters must "sow their wild oats." These mistaken mothers and fathers live to regret this, and yet regret does not seem to cure the habit.

The boys and girls allowed their own way soon lose respect for their parents. Love and affection departs and if the parents live to old age they must pass their declining years in some old people's home. The trials and, in some cases, the hardships which parents have undergone in rearing and educating their children are forgotten by the children. All they want is a good time and the old folks are always in the way.

CANON LECTURES BISHOP.

Leaders in the Established church of England are engaged in a row over the divorce question. Canon Hensley Henson, of Westminster Abbey, who recently visited the United States, has taken the Bishop of Manchester to task because the latter forbade a divorced Episcopalian minister to marry. The Canon claims the Bishop had no justification in depriving a clergyman of a right which the law unquestionably secured him. After all the Catholic church is the only one that maintains the indissolubility of the marriage tie.

Federal statistics show that the present prohibition wave sweeping over the country cost the Government during the fiscal year ending June 30 the sum of $8,600,000. Certainly it has cost cities, towns and States ten times that much and the deficit will have to be made up. Those who dance must pay the fiddler, and the prohibitionists are dancing now.

The Catholic Mirror of Memphis well says: "If men talked religion as constantly and earnestly as they do politics, the churches would not hold half the converts." Yet some people are of the opinion that Kentucky is the only State in which politics is the sole and constant theme.

The International Catholic issued a splendid edition on the occasion of the dedication of St. Mary's Cathedral in Salt Lake City. The Catholic press, like other signs of progress, is looming up in the West.

BAD COMPANY.

Boys are not the only mortals that bad company ruins. No person can withstand or resist the evil influence of bad companionship. Parental influence can not check it. No virtue is so strong, no intelligence or education so superior or enlightened as that only to the baneful influence of evil companionship. The proverb says, "Tell me with whom you associate and I will tell you who you are." Or again, "Companionship is among likes, or makes likes." This being so, therefore should the greatest vigilance be exerted in this respect. St. Augustine says: "Bad company is like a nail driven into a post, which after the first or second blow may be drawn out with little difficulty, but being once driven up to the head, the pinchers can not take hold to draw it out, but which can only be done by the destruction of the wood."

WINNERS.

The Central Committee of the C. K. of A. have awarded the prizes offered at the outing at Fontaine Ferry Park last week. The table goes to the holder of ticket 2,323 and the chair to 13,418. Holders of these tickets can secure an order for the prizes by presenting the coupons at the office of the Kentucky Irish American.

ST. LOUIS CENTENARY.

St. Louis will inaugurate its centennial celebration with a "Church day" celebration on October 5. Archbishop Glennon has given the idea his approval and seventy-six churches in the city will participate in the exercises of the day. Tablets to be unveiled on the early churches of St. Louis will show how important a part the missionaries of the church played in the early history of the large and growing city.

WHO EDWARD BARRY IS.

Good Record of the Democratic Nominee For County Assessor.

Edward A. Barry, the Democratic nominee for County Assessor, is a Kentuckian born and bred. He was born in Louisville thirty-three years ago, and received his education in local schools, graduating with high honor. For several years he held a responsible position with the Bridgeford Stove Company and later with the Geiger-Fiske Company. He then took a position as sanitary inspector in the Louisville health department and served faithfully and well in that capacity for six years. During that time Dr. M. K. Allen was Health Officer and declared that he had no more capable or efficient assistant than Ed Barry.

Upon leaving the service of the city's Health department he took a temporary position with his brother, John J. Barry, who for the past ten years has conducted a cafe on East Market street. For general probity the Messrs. Barry have a reputation excelled by no citizens of Louisville. Edward A. Barry is possessed of every qualification necessary to fill the office of County Assessor, and if elected will discharge the duties of that position with credit to himself and to the satisfaction of his friends and the taxpayers.

A TYPICAL MAID OF ERIN.

Dedicated to "One of the Kind." It's a pretty little shamrock that she wears upon her breast, and the color of her flag is just the shade in which she's dressed.

There's an emerald on her finger, There's a burning in her heart, For the land where turf and blarney Always play the leading part.

With a bit of roguish humor, And a twinkle in her eye, She's a charming little colleen, She's a golden butterfly.

She can charm the melancholy, She can cheer the most depressed, She's a darling little birdling In a richly feathered nest.

She can sing of "Dear Old Erin" And the "Wearing of the Green," And the hymn of dear St. Patrick—She's an Emerald Island Queen.

Then she loves the song "America," But 'tis her heart's endeavor To resound the dear old motto—That of "Ireland Forever," Virginia Andriot.

It is hoped that he will be fully recovered before another week goes by.

TALKING PRODUCES WRINKLES.

A prominent scientist has given the world the valuable information that "too much talking produces wrinkles." Wrinkles will come sooner or later to all who live long on earth, but too much talk often brings trouble long before the lines that indicate the passing of years appear.
